Care for the fastest-growing segment of society

Are you interested in caring for the growing elderly population? Are you considering advancing your current career to nursing home administration? Then you're a prime candidate for Davenport University's Long-Term Care Post-Baccalaureate Certificate.

A Long-Term Care Post-Baccalaureate Certificate from Davenport University is uniquely designed for working professionals who already have their bachelor's degrees in health service administration/management, or another health-related or business degree, and want to pursue a career as a licensed nursing home administrator.

Our hands-on approach prepares you for an advanced career as a licensed nursing home administrator with a deep understanding of the long-term healthcare industry.

The certificate provides the knowledge the graduate needs to be eligible to sit for the state Nursing Home Administrator Licensure Exam.

What you can do with this certificate

With a growing demand for licensed professionals in the long-term healthcare field, a certificate puts you on the path to an administrative and leadership role within the long-term sector.

Is this program right for you?

If you have an aptitude for healthcare, a focus on management and leadership, and are service-oriented, you will likely excel in this field. Applicants should have at least a bachelor's degree with a GPA of 2.7 or higher.
